Optimize Supply Chain within YOUR Business Model

The Total Supply Chain Solution™ (TSCS™) deploys next generation pattern recognition and multivariate combinatorial optimization algorithms running on cloud-based neural network and AI engine technology to provide business goal driven flexibility unachievable until today.

ENKI's Innovation Hub applies rapid iterations of no-code / low-code process design to enroll your team in new ways of working within your business model.

Result: Breakthrough sustainable performance that maintains and enhances your market differentiators. Experience what others have seen, 1,000%+ ROI with positive net income impact.

Rubber, Meet Road

If you see ballooning inventory levels, idle plants while missing orders, unacceptable risk committing to ATP orders or even high levels of customer returns, your team might need to enhance performance while reducing their workload.

Adapt or Die

The advanced technology available today can only perform if your people, culture, and technology are aligned on the work that needs to be accomplished. Advancing new processes and next generation technology together within the context of your business model and a purpose-built performance culture are the secrets to a quantum leap in performance. Who can help your company adapt in this way: Only a firm that helps create a holistic architecture for transformation, including Technology, Business, and Learning.
Unbelievable Return on Investment (ROI)

If you are an exceptional mid-tier business with advanced software, processes, and team engagement, TSCS™ can still help you obtain 3%-12% improvement in your supply chain planning accuracy. If your team is using spreadsheets or other desktop tools, the TSCS™ has been proven to gain a 20,000% ROI and an increase of 75% in inventory turns.

Pulling it all together

With the use of today's advanced technology, known as No-Code or Low-Code platforms, TSCS™ can reengineer your processes AND build the workflows, approval processes, and centralization of data to align all functional silos to achieve the same goals.

Will this take months? Not anymore! TSCS™ will also help you enroll your employees to build a purposeful culture to enhance your business model with 30%-70% less investment than anyone else.
